

Code of Ethics

Living our Code every day

As a global investment group, La Caisse ensures that its actions are guided by sound governance and rigorous ethical principles. This implies a number of responsibilities for us, who help in carrying out its mission. As such, La Caisse has defined clear expectations through a series of rules set out in this Code of Ethics.

The Code is based on three fundamental values that are central to our activities: integrity, respect and professionalism. It is our duty to embody them and demonstrate exemplary conduct in performing our duties. It is how we maintain the trust of not only our depositors and the public, but also of the partners and suppliers we do business with.

Our reputation with our stakeholders is one of our most valuable assets. As La Caisse employees and consultants, we all have a role to play in protecting it. Now more than ever, these issues are crucial for building a strong organizational culture and ensuring our long-term success.

In my view, the Code represents the cornerstone of our determination to aim for the highest ethical and compliance standards. I hereby invite you to read it and to make it your own. By adhering to the Code, you commit to acting in the interest of La Caisse, our depositors and Quebecers.

Charles Emond
President and Chief Executive Officer

Ethics concerns everyone and is experienced on a daily basis. At La Caisse, conducting ourselves ethically starts with complying with our Code. This Code is designed to be accessible and user-friendly, where you will quickly find the information you need and understand your responsibilities.

It includes everything you need to know about ethical rules, required declarations, contacts and available resources. We provide specific examples and advice to help you develop sound reflexes with respect to ethical issues. Use the table of contents to conveniently browse the Code and see the commitments sections for an overview of the rules in effect.

If you have any doubt, concerns, or notice a problematic situation, feel free to contact the Ethics and Compliance team. In addition to enforcing the Code, our specialists are there to answer your questions.

Happy reading!

1.2

Ask the right questions in order to act ethically

Feel free to consult the Ethics and Compliance team at any time while reflecting on a delicate situation.

Certain delicate situations require judgment and careful consideration. If you are wondering if a situation presents an ethical issue, take a step back and ask yourself the following questions.

1 Recognizing a situation that raises an ethical issue

What are the facts? Who is involved? Which ethical rule is involved?
Beware of your biases and prejudices.

2 Consulting the relevant resources

Which laws, policies and directives should I observe?
Refer to La Caisse's Code, policies and directives.
If in doubt, ask for support from your team leader.

3 Evaluating possible scenarios and choosing the most appropriate one

What decisions could I make and what would the consequences be?
You can discuss a situation with the Ethics and Compliance team at any time, to reach the best decision based on the circumstances.

4 Taking action

✓ I am acting in such a way as to protect La Caisse's integrity as well as my own, and that of the people involved.

1.3

Focus on... discrimination

Discriminating means treating a person differently or excluding them because of their personal characteristics.

According to applicable law, the following characteristics may be targeted: skin colour, ethnic origin, nationality, gender, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, age, religion, political convictions, language, civil status, pregnancy, social condition and disability.

Discrimination is prohibited at all times, be it in the context of a hiring process, a promotion, a dismissal, the creation of a project team or any work-related activity. Seemingly commonplace remarks alluding to one of these characteristics can be perceived as hurtful, derogatory or insulting.

La Caisse encourages you to be open-minded, attentive and empathetic in your interactions and to discover the rich diversity of the people around you.

Perform your duties with professionalism

Working for La Caisse means adhering to the highest standards of quality by performing your duties diligently, efficiently and with judgment. Familiarizing yourself with the regulatory framework that applies to your role is also important.

You must carry out your duties with professionalism and avoid actions that could undermine your or La Caisse’s credibility.

- Respect the rules of your professional order and immediately inform your team leader if you are the subject of a temporary suspension or a sanction by your order.

Examples: Personal bankruptcy or civil, penal or criminal charges.

2.3

Protect the confidentiality of information

As part of your work at La Caisse, you have access to confidential information, such as personal information and inside information. You must preserve its integrity, security and confidentiality at all times.

Contravening the rules regarding the confidentiality of information may have legal, financial and reputational consequences. If you are not sure if information is confidential, treat it as though it were.

When you are no longer employed by La Caisse, you must continue to adhere to all of the rules regarding the confidentiality of information.

All non-public information to which you have access as part of your duties or that concerns La Caisse’s activities.

Examples: Information contained in positioning documents for a potential investment, information obtained during negotiations with a partner, strategic plans, business plans, etc.

Personal information

Information that makes it possible to directly or indirectly identify a person.

Examples: Civil status, address, salary, etc.

Inside information

Information not known to the public and likely to influence an investment decision or to affect the value or price of listed securities. These securities may be listed on a stock exchange (including in initial public offerings) or any other market where the shares of these companies are traded.

2.3

Protect the confidentiality of information (continued)

Your commitments

- Consult and use only the confidential information you need as part of your duties.
- Use confidential information only for the purposes for which it was collected.
- Do not share confidential information unless your recipient is authorized to consult it and there is a business need to do so.
- Do not discuss any confidential information in a public space such as a common area or a restaurant, and hold your confidential meetings in environments that maintain confidentiality.
- Use only the collaboration, sharing and document management tools authorized by La Caisse.
- Keep confidential documents out of plain sight by storing and disposing of them securely, in accordance with La Caisse's retention schedule.

- Additional commitments when you are no longer employed by La Caisse
- Return all confidential documents and information in your possession, without keeping any copies (this applies to both hard copies and electronic versions).
 - Stop using any confidential information obtained during your employment, for either your personal benefit or that of another person or organization.
 - Do not act on behalf of a person or organization in a matter involving La Caisse for which you have confidential information. The nature of your duties and the information to which you had access will determine the appropriate duration of this obligation.

2.4

Protect La Caisse's intellectual property

The intellectual property of La Caisse is a valuable asset and must be protected at all times. As such, anything you develop or produce as part of your duties or your contract belongs to La Caisse.

A non-exhaustive list includes plans, presentations, written reports, software, algorithms, computer code and mathematical or quantitative models. This intellectual property also includes La Caisse's logos, names, trademarks, copyrights, inventions and trade secrets.

Your commitments

- Protect the confidentiality of La Caisse's intellectual property and not disclose its trade secrets.
- Never use La Caisse's intellectual property (including property created as part of your duties):
 - For personal purposes
 - To benefit any individual or organization other than La Caisse
 - After your employment at La Caisse ends
- Obtain authorization from the Communications team if you want to allow another person or organization to use La Caisse's logos, names and trademarks.

2.5

Use La Caisse resources appropriately

La Caisse provides the material and computer resources necessary for you to perform your duties. You must use them responsibly in order to preserve the integrity and confidentiality of the information and data.

La Caisse can verify and monitor your use of its resources in certain circumstances. Your right to privacy is therefore limited when you use the resources provided by La Caisse.

Your commitments

- Use La Caisse’s workplace and resources, property and assets for the performance of your duties.
- Take appropriate measures to avoid the loss, theft or damage of equipment and data belonging to La Caisse.
- Make limited and reasonable personal use of the resources and IT equipment made available to you by La Caisse.
- Immediately report the loss or theft of data, resources or equipment belonging to La Caisse.

Focus on... artificial intelligence

Artificial intelligence is a powerful driver of productivity and innovation. However, its use at La Caisse must remain responsible and ethical. Therefore, when using it in the course of your work, please ensure that you:

- Only use artificial intelligence tools approved by La Caisse
- Verify the accuracy and reliability of the content generated
- Are mindful of inherent biases
- Protect the confidentiality of information

2.6

Recognize and manage conflicts of interest

Determining what constitutes a conflict of interest is not always straightforward and requires an analysis. Certain situations can place you in a real, potential or apparent conflict of interest.

When not properly managed, conflicts of interest can compromise the impartiality of discussions, evaluations, transactions and decisions. They may also damage your reputation and that of La Caisse.

Transparency and communication are crucial for preventing and managing conflicts of interest. For this reason, you are required to report to the Ethics and Compliance team any situation that could lead to a conflict of interest, so that the team can help you properly assess and manage the situation.

Additional resources

-  Declaration of modification of interests
-  Policy – Contracts for the Acquisition or Leasing of Goods and Services

Distinguishing between the types of conflicts of interest

Conflict of interest management and oversight depend on the nature of the conflict. Real conflicts of interest are handled in a specific way because of the consequences they may have and legal requirements . While potential and apparent conflicts do not constitute real conflicts of interest, they must also be managed properly in order to prevent risks.

Real conflict

In a real conflict of interest, your personal interests or those of a person with whom you have a relationship of proximity are influencing your professional judgment. This conflict prevents you from performing your job independently and objectively.

Examples: You participate in an investment recommendation in a private company in which you hold shares, or in a company where your spouse is on the Board of Directors.

Potential conflict

Potential conflicts of interest are conflicts that do not yet exist, but that can be anticipated. In other words, it is likely that a potential conflict of interest will become a real conflict.

Example: You are asked to take part in a selection committee for a request for proposals by invitation, and your former employer that you left less than two years ago is among the invited suppliers. You can foresee that you could be in a real conflict of interest once the selection process begins.

Apparent conflict

The appearance of a conflict is measured from the public's perspective. In this situation, you appear to be in a conflict situation although this is not the case in reality.

Example: Your colleagues are working on a potential investment in a company headed by your sister, but you are not participating in the potential investment and have no influence over the decision-making process related to it. You may appear to be in a conflict of interest, even though in reality you are not.

Conflict of interest

Transactions and sound business practices

Your commitments

- Report to the Ethics and Compliance team any situation in which your personal interests, or those of other people or organizations with whom you have a relationship of proximity , could conflict with those of La Caisse. You must report such situations:
 - When you are hired
 - In every annual declaration
 - During your employment whenever a new situation arises
 - When you participate in the evaluation of an investment opportunity in a company
- If you are part of a committee and become aware that an agenda item could place you in a conflict of interest, immediately inform the person coordinating the committee and withdraw from any discussion on that item.
- Co-operate fully in the conflict of interest management process and comply with any oversight measures put in place by the Ethics and Compliance team.
- Refrain from influencing your colleagues on a matter that could place you in a conflict of interest.
- Exclude yourself from any recruitment process involving a person with whom you have a relationship of proximity and never supervise a person with whom you have a relationship of proximity.
- Never benefit from your position or use La Caisse equipment or information to obtain a benefit (or obtain one for a person with whom you have a relationship of proximity).

Questions to help you identify a conflict of interests

YES NO I DON'T KNOW

Do I have an interest, including financial, in an organization that could benefit from (or appear to benefit from) my position at La Caisse ?

Could my position at La Caisse serve (or appear to serve) my personal interests or those of a person with whom I have a relationship of proximity ?

Could my position at La Caisse benefit (or appear to benefit) an organization with which I have a relationship of proximity ?

Do I have interests or relationships that could damage my reputation or that of La Caisse if they were publicly known ?

Examples of situations that you must always report

- A La Caisse transaction could serve your personal financial interests, and you have a role in the investment decision that will be made (approval, advice, participation on an advisory committee, etc.). Your financial interests may be direct (personally held by you) or indirect (held through another person, such as a spouse).
- You have a relationship of proximity with the management team of a company that is or might become a La Caisse supplier or in which La Caisse invests or might invest.
- You are a member of a selection committee for a request for proposals and you have a relationship of proximity with one of the companies participating in it.
- An investment team is analyzing your ex-business partners' new company.

Did you answer “Yes” or “I don’t know” to any of these questions ?

Are you unable to determine if you should report a certain situation ?

Contact the Ethics and Compliance team.

The role of the Ethics and Compliance team in managing conflicts of interest

For consistency and fairness, the Ethics and Compliance team evaluates all situations that could place staff members in a conflict of interest.

The team establishes appropriate oversight measures adapted to the risks in order to prevent and manage conflicts, for example by:

- Requesting that you recuse yourself from any committees, discussions or decisions on files that place you in a conflict of interest
- Restricting your access to files related to the situation placing you in a conflict of interest
- Assigning the responsibility of a file to another person

2.7

Avoid incompatible outside activities

As a staff member, you must prioritize your job at La Caisse. When you are carrying out professional activities or business activities outside of your duties, you must ensure they are compatible with your duties and do not place you in a conflict of interest or in breach of a rule of the Code.

For example, taking on a teaching position or being a Board of Directors member for a non-profit organization are activities that are generally allowed, but they must always be authorized and declared.

The Ethics and Compliance team analyzes all requests for outside activities and determines if they comply with the Code or if oversight measures need to be implemented.

If you are a consultant for La Caisse, your other contracts must not be in conflict with your mandate for La Caisse.

Additional resource

 Declaration of modification of interests

Your commitments

- Obtain a favourable opinion from your team leader and authorization from the Ethics and Compliance team before committing to a professional or business activity outside of your duties.
- Declare your activities annually and each time you start a new outside activity.
- Abstain from participating in any outside activity that might:
 - interfere with your duties or your La Caisse working schedule
 - create a conflict of interest
 - harm La Caisse’s image or reputation
 - compromise confidentiality of information

Prohibited outside activities

Certain outside activities are prohibited, in part because they create too great a risk of conflicts of interest. Therefore, you cannot be part of:

- × A Board of Directors of a public company (publicly traded)
- × An Advisory Committee of a private company or fund
- × An investment club

Focus on... participating in a BOD as part of your duties

When you sit on a Board of Directors at the request of La Caisse, this role is not considered to be an outside activity because it is related to your duties.

Sitting on the Board of Directors of a company requires in-depth knowledge of the fiduciary duties involved, along with the risks of conflict of interest that can arise as part of this role.

You do not need to declare this role or have it authorized by the Ethics and Compliance team, but you must observe the following rules:

- Consult the Legal and Global Affairs team.
- Declare any conflict of interest that may result from your role on the Board of Directors.
- Refuse attendance and other fees, and any other compensation related to this role. If applicable, the company on whose Board you sit as part of your duties could nevertheless reimburse you for expenses incurred for professional travel required as part of your role.

Do not accept inappropriate invitations or gifts

Invitations and gifts between business partners can lead to conflicts of interest or an appearance of conflict of interest. They can also damage your credibility and your reputation and those of La Caisse. They can even be construed as bribes.

Before accepting an invitation or a gift, you should ensure that the offer respects the Code and it in no way compromises your independence and objectivity.

Your commitments

- Declare invitations and gifts whose value exceeds the following amounts, based on where you work:

Canada: CAD 100	Germany: EUR 85
U.S.: USD 100	India: INR 3000
Australia: AUD 130	Mexico: MXN 1000
Brazil: BRL 275	U.K.: GBP 75
France: EUR 85	Singapore: SGD 130
- Recognize and decline invitations and gifts that could influence or give the impression of influencing your decisions.
- Do not solicit invitations or gifts.

Invitations and gifts to be declined at all times

- × Cash, promotional codes, gift cards or discount coupons
- × Airline ticket and accommodations
- × Invitations or gifts offered by a person or organization participating in a request for proposals with La Caisse (or a similar process)
- × Invitations or gifts offered to loved ones, subject to exceptions

Additional resource

 Declaration of invitations and gifts

How to determine whether an invitation or a gift is acceptable?

YES NO

Is this being offered to be me openly, in full view of my colleagues and without expecting anything in return?

Is the value modest?
The value of a gift can surpass the declaration limit. However, you must assess if it's reasonable to accept it.

Is it being offered as a normal part of my duties, or to maintain a healthy business relationship?

Is the person who is offering me a gift or an invitation doing so only occasionally?

In the case of an invitation, is the person inviting me accompanying me to the event?

Did you answer "Yes" to all of these questions?

The invitation or gift is probably acceptable. Do not forget to declare those with a value greater than your declaration limit.

Did you answer "No" to one of these questions?

You must decline the invitation or gift.

Not sure?

Contact the Ethics and Compliance team.

When to contact the Ethics and Compliance team

- You are wondering if you can accept a gift.
- Several members of your team are part of the same invitation (e.g., to a restaurant or an event).
- You are concerned that refusing a gift may be construed as impolite.

Are you looking to offer a gift?

Be aware that it's not a common practice at La Caisse and that specific rules may apply. Make sure that what you offer complies with the Code of Ethics and guidelines on expense reimbursements.

Careful! You cannot offer gifts to public officials without the prior consent of the Vice-President and Chief Ethics and Compliance Officer.

Show reserve

Showing reserve means your personal or political opinions should not damage La Caisse and its reputation. Your opinions may be associated with La Caisse even if that is not your intention. For this reason, you must ensure your communications and your public positions respect the Code’s principles.

In your public interactions, you must therefore conduct yourself with reserve and in a way that preserves La Caisse’s interests. This is particularly the case when you :

- Publish content or comments on social media
- Become involved in your community
- Engage in politics

Additional resources

-  Policy – Donations and Sponsorships
-  Internal by-law of Caisse de dépôt et placement du Québec (section 26)

Your commitments

- Contact the Communications team before responding to a media request or publishing a text in the media.
- Obtain an opinion from the Communications teams before speaking publicly, for example if you wish to be a panellist at a conference, express yourself at an event or publish an article in a professional journal.
- Get approval from the Donations and Sponsorships team before soliciting donations from La Caisse partners and suppliers.
- Comply with the donation and sponsorship assessment process if you would like La Caisse to provide funding for a cause you support.
- Do not give the impression that La Caisse is associated with your personal and political activities and opinions, including on social media or any other public broadcasting channel.
- Make decisions independently of any partisan political considerations and demonstrate political neutrality in the exercise of your duties.

Focus on... candidates for an election

Of course, you can be a member of a political party, attend political meetings or donate to a political party.

However, if you stand as a candidate in a federal, provincial or municipal election, first contact the Ethics and Compliance team to ensure compliance with the procedures applicable to your jurisdiction.

For example, if you work in Québec, you must announce it to your team leader in a letter of resignation that will take effect if you win the election. From the time you announce your candidacy up until the election, you must take a leave without pay. In the event of a defeat, you may resume your position.

Follow market rules

Workplace

Resources and information

Conflict of interest

Transactions and sound business practices

You must at all times comply with all applicable laws and regulations governing the financial markets. These rules protect investors against unfair or fraudulent practices.

You must respect them when participating in investment decisions at La Caisse and when you are carrying out personal transactions. Contravening market rules (in particular with respect to prohibitions on insider trading and tipping) may lead to significant sanctions for you and for La Caisse.

Your commitments

- Never conduct a transaction when you have inside information.
- Never share inside information with an unauthorized person.
- Never use inside information to recommend a transaction to someone else.
- Never participate in transactions with the aim of manipulating markets or artificially influencing the volume of activity for a security.
- When you are reviewing an investment opportunity, always ask yourself if you're in a conflict of interest.

See the rule Recognize and manage conflicts of interest for more information.

Additional resource

 Directive - Managing Privileged Information

2.11

Obtain pre-authorization for your personal transactions

Because La Caisse plays an active role in financial markets, some of your personal transactions could put you at risk of committing insider trading or place you in a conflict of interest. For this reason, you must limit your personal transactions (purchase and sale) involving the covered securities to the established threshold and have them pre-authorized, whether they are for private or public companies. You must also provide all brokerage accounts related to these transactions.

This rule applies to you when:

- You carry out transactions for yourself involving the covered securities
- Someone else carries out transactions for you involving the covered securities (e.g. broker, spouse, friend)
- You carry out transactions for someone else involving the covered securities
- You advise, control or influence decisions or transactions for someone else involving the covered securities.

Additional resources

-  Personal transaction pre-authorization request \(PTM\)
-  Directive on Administrative and Disciplinary Measures for Breaches of the Code of Ethics

Your commitments

- Do not perform any transactions if you have confidential or inside information on the company for which you are requesting a pre-authorization.
- Request and obtain authorization before carrying out any personal transaction involving the covered securities, and do not conduct the transaction if the request was refused.
- Send your transaction confirmations and monthly account statements through your brokerage firm.
- Forward to compliance@lacaisses.com upon opening any new account likely to contain the covered securities.
- Limit your personal transactions involving covered securities to a maximum of 50 transactions per year.
- Do not participate in an investment club.
- For people designated by the Vice-President and Chief Ethics and Compliance Officer, follow the additional rules that apply to you.

Securities covered by the pre-authorization process

- Shares and securities of publicly traded corporations
- Shares and securities of private corporations
- Securities offered during initial public offerings
- Bonds and other debt securities of corporations
- Private equity funds
- Derivative financial instruments and securities with an underlying covered security, such as single-stock exchange-traded funds (ETFs)
- Real estate investment trusts (REITs)

Securities excluded from the pre-authorization process

- Mutual funds
- Exchange-traded funds (ETFs), except single-stock ETFs
- Labour-sponsored funds
- Index-linked securities and market index derivatives;
- Government bonds and treasury bills
- Currencies and derivatives on currencies
- Financial instruments related to interest rates and commodities
- Deposit certificates, guaranteed investment certificates or principal-protected notes
- Certain other excluded securities

Here are the steps to follow

1 Make a pre-authorization request

You must use the personal transaction management platform to have your purchase and sale transactions pre-authorized.

If your pre-authorization request involves a private company or a private investment fund, you must also fill out an additional investment questionnaire to request authorization from the Vice-President and Chief Ethics and Compliance Officer. Specific conditions may apply.

2 Carry out the transaction once the pre-authorization is accepted

If you decide to go ahead with the transaction, conduct it the same day the authorization was granted.

Keep the security for at least 30 days.

3 Send your transaction confirmations and account statements

You must make the necessary arrangements with your brokerage firm to have them send duplicates of any transaction confirmations and monthly account statements to compliance@lacaisse.com.

Reasons for denying pre-authorization

Numerous reasons can justify prohibiting the sale or purchase of a security. For confidentiality reasons, the Ethics and Compliance team cannot share these reasons with you.

Special situations

The Vice-President and Chief Ethics and Compliance Officer may occasionally impose stricter rules on certain staff members or teams, in consultation with the senior management members in question.

Exception to the pre-authorization rule

You can give an investment broker or portfolio manager the authority to carry out transactions in your name, without consulting you. This can be done for example through a discretionary management agreement or a blind trust. You must inform the Ethics and Compliance team before entering into a discretionary management agreement. The team will confirm whether this agreement can exempt you from the pre-authorization process. Then you will need to send the team, each year, a copy of the account statement received from your manager.

Violation of personal transaction rules

A violation of these rules can be considered to be a serious breach of the Code and may lead to administrative or disciplinary measures.

Contact the Ethics and Compliance team if you have any doubts or questions about the rules concerning personal transactions, in order to avoid breaching the Code.
